

What is Included for your registration for The Regenerative Business Community?

1. There are 8 two hour calls, conducted LIVE as well as recorded on Zoom, that cover the six Strategic questions and frameworks for A Regenerative Approach to Strategic Thinking. You have access to these recordings for 12 months after the series is complete. And can download all materials to print or store digital. Please read the guidelines for use of materials. This applies to all the materials used in the sessions: handouts and power points when there are such. 16 hours total
2. Support, as a resource by a member of The Regenerative Business Alliance for breakouts during the sessions and four sessions of approximately one hour, for implementation and exploration of ideas presented. You may want to arrange with them, at an additional cost, to get more time beyond the four sessions, either on the phone on your site. You can arrange that time directly and do not need to clear or coordinate with Carol Sanford Institute. They are each independent agents, working in alliance with Carol Sanford Institute.
3. Carol Sanford does not work one on one in coaching or advising. Speak to your alliance resource for specific help. If you want a most extensive onsite series, you can arrange Carol's leadership and involve the Alliance member in that process. It is not included in this format or registration fees.
4. A major intention in this series is the development of the Alliance members in the use of these materials, processes and philosophy of working. They are reminded not to do your thinking for you, not to answer questions that are better developed by your team interactively and to ask questions that disrupt your current thinking patterns using living systems frameworks. None of us consider ourselves experts and continue to learn and evolve. Each session and its materials are created for the specific audience. WE have no set curriculum. As a result, we have mistakes, including Carol's typos, and ask you to just ask when something does not make sense.
5. Primarily, you are paying for a developmental education event, not a training that we have the answers and you take notes. We are working on developing the mind that can see the world from a Regenerative paradigm and learn a developmental way of growing and learning (see The Regenerative Business, Carol's new book for the definitional difference between traditional fixed, growth and developmental mindsets. They are significant.
